THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

CASH CAPITAL OVER - - - $1,000,000

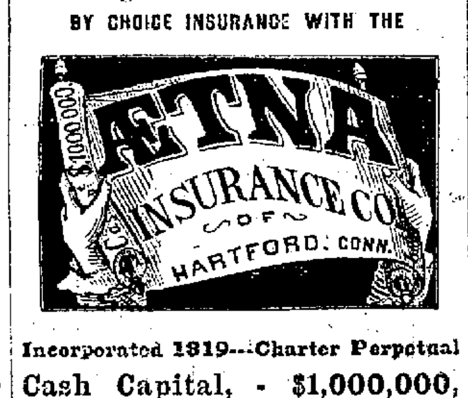

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

The solid service long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Ætna Insurance Company possess in its line, should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their bests interests.

During "stringent times" the necessity for reliable Insurance becomes an imperative duty—the ability of property holders to sustain loss being then much lessened.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

AND BUILDERS.

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry,

on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

of every description,

PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGING

of any required dimension.

Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

All Orders from the city or country will be promptly attended to.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry,

on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

Cut Stone
of every description,
PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGING
of any required dimension.
Carbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

THE SCENE IN THE WIGWAM.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION.

When the candidates were put in nomination, the only names that produced "tremendous applause" were those of Seward and Lincoln.

Everybody felt that the fight was between them, and yielded accordingly. Mr. Sewward was first nominated, and the applause was enthusiastic. The next nomination was that in behalf of Mr. Lincoln, and the response was prodigious, rising and raging far beyond the Seward shriek. Presently Caleb B. Smith seconded the nomination of Lincoln, and the response was absolutely terrific. It now became the Seward men to make another effort, and Blair, of Michigan, seconded his nomination, and

> At once there rose so wild a yell
> Within that dark and narrow dell,
> As all the fiends from heaven that fell
> Had pealed the banner cry of hell.

The effect was startling. Hundreds of persons stopped their ears in pain. The shouting was absolutely frantic, shrill and wild. No Camanches or panthers ever struck a higher note or gave to a scream more fearful intensity. Looking from the stage over the vast amphitheatre nothing was to be seen below but thousands of hats—a black, mighty swarm of hats—flying with the velocity of hornets over a mass of human heads, most of the mouths of which as appeared, were open. Above, all around the galleries, hats and handkerchiefs were flying in the tempest together. The wonder of the thing was that the Seward pressure outside should, so far from New York, be so powerful.

Now the Abe Lincoln men had to try it again, and Mr. Delano, of Ohio, on behalf of a portion of the delegation of that state, seconded the nomination of Lincoln, and the uproar that followed was beyond description. Imagine all the hogs ever slaughtered in Cincinnati giving their death squeals together, a score of big steam whistles going together, (steam at 160 pounds per inch) and you can conceive something of the same nature. I thought the Seward yell could not be surpassed; but the Lincoln boys were clearly ahead, and feeling their victory, as there was a lull in the storm, they took deep breaths all round and gave a concentrated shriek that was positively awful, and accompanied it with stamping that made every plank and pillar in the building quiver.

Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, leaped upon a table, and swinging hat and cane, performed like an acrobat. The presumption is he shrieked with the rest, as his mouth was wide open; but no one will ever be able to testify that he has positive knowledge of the fact that he made a particle of noise. His individual voice, however loud, was lost in the hurricane of Lincoln cheers.

The New York, Michigan and Wisconsin delegations sat together, and were, in this tempest, very quiet. Many of their faces whitened as the Lincoln yawp swelled into a wild hozanna of victory.

The convention now proceeded to business. The New England states were called first, and it was evident that Seward had not the strength that had been claimed for him there. Maine gave nearly half her vote for Lincoln. Vermont gave her vote to her senator, Collamer, which was understood to be merely complimentary. It appeared, however, that her delegation was hostile or indifferent to Seward, otherwise there would have been no complimentary vote for another. Massachusetts was divided. Rhode Island and Connecticut did not give Seward a vote. So much for the caucusing the night before. Mr. Evarts, of New York, rose and gave the vote of the state calmly, but with a swelling tone of pride in his voice—"New York casts her seventy votes for William H. Seward!" The seventy votes was a plumper, and there was slight applause, and that rustle and vibration in the audience indicating a sensation. The most significant vote was that of Virginia, which had been expected solid for Seward, and which now gave him but eight, and Lincoln fourteen. The New Yorkers looked significantly at each other as this was announced. Then Indiana gave her twenty-six votes for Lincoln. This solid vote was a startler, and the keen little eyes of Henry S. Lane glittered as it was given. He was responsible for it. It was his opinion that the man of all the land to carry the state of Indiana was Judge McLean.—He also thought Bates had eminent qualifications. But when he found that the contest was between Seward and Lincoln, he worked for Lincoln as if life itself depended upon success. The division of the first vote caused a fall in Seward stock. It was seen that Lincoln, Cameron and Bates had the strength to defeat Seward; it was also known that the greater part of the Chase vote would go for Lincoln.

The convention proceeded to a second ballot. Every man was fiercely impatient.—The partisans of the various candidates were strung up to such a pitch of excitement as to render them incapable of patience, and the cries of "call the roll" were fairly hissed through their teeth. The first gain for Lincoln was in New Hampshire. The Chase and the Fremont vote of that state were given for him. His next gain was the whole vote of Vermont. This was a blighting blow upon the Seward interest. The New Yorkers started as if an Orsini bomb had exploded. And presently the Cameron vote of Pennsylvania was thrown for Lincoln, increasing his strength forty-four votes. The fate of the day was now determined. New York saw "checkmate" in the next move, and sullenly proceeded with the game, assuming unconsciousness of her inevitable doom. On this ballot Lincoln gained seventy-nine votes! Seward had 184½ votes; Lincoln 181.

It now dawned upon the multitude that the presumption entertained the night before, that the Seward men would have everything their own way, was a mistake.—Even persons unused to making the calculations and considering the combinations attendant upon such scenes, could not but observe that while the strength of Seward and Lincoln was almost even at the moment, the reserved votes by which the contest was to be decided were inclined to the latter. There, for instance, was the Bates vote, thirty-five; the McLean vote, thirty-eight; the Dayton vote, ten—all impending for Lincoln—and forty two Chase votes, the greater part going the same way.

On the third ballot, now taken amid excitement that tested the nerves, the fatal defection from Seward in New England still further appeared—four votes going over from Seward to Lincoln in Massachusetts. The latter received four additional votes from Pennsylvania and fifteen additional votes from Ohio. It was whispered about—"Lincoln's coming man—be nominated this ballot." When the roll of states and territories had been called, I had ceased to give attention to any votes but those for Lincoln, and had his vote added up as it was given. The number of votes necessary to a choice were two hundred and thirty-three, and I saw under my pencil as the Lincoln column was completed, the figures 231½—one vote and a half being required to give him the nomination. A hundred pencils had told the same story. The news went over the house wonderfully, and there was a pause. In about ten ticks of a watch, Cartter of Ohio was up. He said, "I rise, (eh) Mr. Chairman, (eh) to announce the change of four votes of Ohio from Mr. Chase to Mr. Lincoln." The deed was done. There was a moment's silence. The nerves of the thousands, which through the hours of suspense had been subjected to terrible tension, and as deep breaths of relief were taken, there was a noise in the wigwam like the rush of a great wind, in the van of a storm—and in another breath, the storm was there. There were thousands cheering with the energy of insanity.

A man who had been on the roof, and was engaged in communicating the results of the ballotings to the mighty mass of outsiders, now demanded by gestures at the skylight over the stage, to know what had happened. One of the secretaries, with the tally sheet in his hands, shouted, "Fire the salute! Abe Lincoln is nominated!" As the cheering inside the wigwam subsided, we could hear that outside, where the news of the nomination had just been announced. And the roar, like the breaking up of the fountains of the great deep that was heard, gave a new impulse to the enthusiasm inside. Then the thunder of the salute rose above the din, and the shouting was repeated with such tremendous fury that some discharges of the cannon were absolutely not heard by those on the stage. Puffs of smoke drifting by the open doors, and the smell of gun-powder, told what was going on.

The moment that half a dozen men who were on their chairs making motions at the President could be heard, they changed the votes of their states to Mr. Lincoln. This was a mere formality and was a cheap way for men to distinguish themselves. The proper and orderly proceeding would have been to announce the vote, and then for a motion to come from New York to make the nomination unanimous. New York was prepared to make this motion, but not out of order. Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Virginia, California, Texas, District of Columbia, Kansas, Nebraska, and Oregon, insisted upon casting unanimous votes for Old Abe Lincoln before the vote was declared.

While these votes were being given, the applause continued, and a photograph of Abe Lincoln which had hung in one of the side rooms was brought in, and held up before the surging and screaming masses.

The places of the various delegations were indicated by staffs to which were attached the names of the states, printed in large black letters on paste board. As the Lincoln enthusiasm increased, delegates tore these standards of the states from their places and swung them about their heads.

I left the city on the night train on the Fort Wayne and Chicago road. The train consisted of eleven cars, every seat being full and people standing in the aisles and corners. I never before saw a company of persons so exhausted as they were. The Lincoln men were not able to respond to the cheers which went up along the road for "Old Abe." At every station where there was a village, until two o'clock, there were tar barrels burning, drums beating, boys carrying rails; and guns, great and small, banging away. The weary passengers were allowed no rest, but plagued by the thundering jar of cannon, the clamor of drums, the glare of bonfires, and the wild whooping of the boys, who were delighted with the idea of a candidate for the Presidency who thirty years ago had split rails on the Sanagamon river—classic stream now and forevermore—and whose neighbors named him "Honest." REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

NEW YORK, May 23.

Correspondence of the Tribune.—The Philadelphia Inquirer has a despatch from Washington to the effect that the statement that Mr. Seward is about leaving the senate is strictly without foundation, although, says the despatch, his friends are indignant at his defeat. They say that he will not only endorse the nominee, but he will make a speech approving of him and the platform on which he stands, as adopted at Chicago.

NEW YORK, May 23.

A large meeting was held at the Cooper Institute last night, with a view to influence the action of the New York delegation to the Baltimore convention in favor of Douglas. Speeches were made by Hon. F. B. Cutting, Hon. W. A. Richardson, of Ill., Gov. Foote, of Tenn., and several others.—There was a considerable gathering outside the building, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

If Mr. Hunter should return to-morrow as anticipated, the senate committee on finance will hold a meeting on Mr. Morrill's tariff bill as passed by the house. That committee is nearly divided, and Mr. Toombs holds the balance of power with a strong disposition to favor the bill. Before the senate the prospect is decidedly encouraging unless the bill be killed off by a premature adjournment or intentional discussion.

The whole republican force is certain, being 25 votes to start with; add Messrs. Kennedy and Crittenden from the South Americans, and Bigler, Thompson and Pearce, democrats and 30 out of the 33 which are necessary to a full senate, may be considered sure with a fair prospect of Bayard, Saulsbury, Toombs and Latham, without counting others who may be conveniently absent for the sake of supposed party policy.

Mr. Curtis will call up the Pacific railroad bill in the house on Saturday and endeavor to reach a vote by the following Tuesday. Opinion is much divided in the house between the policy of one or two roads as most likely to attain the object.

Messrs. Sherman, Trumbull, Dunn, Morrill, Train, Aldrich and others have agreed to speak at the meeting of the peoples' party in Philadelphia on Saturday night, to ratify the Chicago nominations and open the campaign in Pennsylvania.

Wm. C. Barney testified before the Covode committee as to certain mail contracts made by P. Gen. Holt. He testified that in 1859 he bid for the sea mail service between New York and San Francisco, his terms being $178,000; those of his only competitor, Daniel Johnson, being $162,000. The contract was awarded to Johnson, who, as the time approached for carrying it into effect, notified the department of his inability. The service was then turned over to Vanderbilt for $178,000, in spite of Barney's claims that he was the next and only bidder.

NEW YORK, May 23.

A private letter from the south announces that Houston will run as an independent candidate.

Hon. Erastus Corning of Albany, and Hon. James S. Wadsworth of Genessee, have become securities of John A. Dix, the newly appointed postmaster for this city, in the sum of $150,000—double the amount of the late postmaster.

CINCINNATI, May 23.

The papers are filled with accounts of the storm. It is supposed to have extended from Louisville to Marietta, following the course of the river. The damage done is estimated at over $1,000,000.

All the towns and villages on the river above have suffered severely. Sixteen pair of coal boats are known to have sunk and over one hundred lives are lost. All the steamboats on the river have suffered more or less.

At Louisville and New Albany the storm was not as disastrous as in this vicinity, but a great many houses are unroofed, and trees and fences blown down.

WASHINGTON, May 23.

HOUSE.—Mr. Alley, the senate Pacific telegraph bill being under consideration, spoke of the vast importance of such a communication between the two oceans, which cannot be expected for years to come except by this measure. He denied that it creates a great monopoly. It confers no exclusive privilege but merely grants right of way.

A number of gentlemen earnestly sought the floor amid the usual confusion.

Mr. Colfax said they wanted action and not speeches.

Mr. Smith, of Virginia, thought it unfair that the debate should be confined to the friends of the bill.

Mr. Alley replied that the discussion had been confined mainly to the enemies of the measure during subsequent proceedings.

Mr. Curry rose to a point of order, relative to the prevalent disorder, he said it was impossible to understand what was going on.

The Speaker succeeded in obtaining comparative quiet.

Clark B. Cochrane moved to table the bill. Negatived by 80 against 91.

Without further action the house went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union, on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

The amendment pending was to strike out the appropriation for an auxiliary guard.

Mr. Florence caused to be read a resolution of the city council in reprobation of the disturbances of the republican serenade on Saturday.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, said the last resolution was untrue. There was not a policeman on the ground. He remarked that there was but one sentiment in the community and that in detestation of the riot.

Mr. Campbell said the disturbance commenced at the Washington House, the rioters followed the procession to 8th street with all the violence of an organized mob. There was not a policeman on the ground.

The amendment was agreed to.

SENATE.—A message was received from the President, in relation to the capture of more negroes of the Isle of Pines, by the United States steamer Wyandotte, referred to the judiciary.

Mr. Grimes introduced a resolution of inquiry, addressed to the secretary of war in regard to the sale of the Fort Snelling reserve. A discussion ensued as to the propriety of sending an enquiry to the secretary of war.

Mr. Davis contended that it could only be addressed to the President.

SANDY HOOK, May 23.

The steamer Persia from Liverpool 12th, via Queenstown 13th, has arrived.

Garabaldi's expedition was the only topic of any prominence. There was nothing authentic as to his landing.

It is believed the insurrection in the interior of Sicily continued.

There was a panic at Shanghae, and business was suspended, owing to the advance of the rebels.

Provisions dull. Breadstuffs steady, except corn, which was lower.

Special Correspondence of the Chicago Journal.

MR. LINCOLN AND THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 19, 1860.

The excursion train bearing the committee appointed by the national convention at Chicago, to wait on Mr. Lincoln, and notify him of his nomination, consisting of the president of the convention, Hon. George Ashmun, of Mass., and the chairmen of the different state delegations, arrived here at half-past seven o'clock this evening.

A great crowd were awaiting them at the depot, and greeted their coming with enthusiastic shouts. From the depot they marched to the hotel, accompanied by the crowd, and two or three bands discoursing stirring music. The appearance and names of the more distinguished delegates were received with vociferous applause, especially the venerable and famous Francis P. Blair, of Maryland, Hon. E. D. Morgan, Governor of New York, and Gov. Boutwell, of Massachusetts.

When they arrived at the hotel, the crowd still increasing, deployed off to the state house square, to give vent to their enthusiasm in almost continual cheers, and listen to fervent speeches.

Having partaken of a bountiful supper, the delegates proceeded quietly by such streets as would escape the crowd, to the residence of Mr. Lincoln. Quite a number of outsiders were along, among whom were half a dozen editors, including Hon. Henry J. Raymond, of the New York Times.

Among the delegates composing the committee were many of the most distinguished men in that great convention, such as Mr. Evarts, of New York, the accomplished and eloquent spokesman of the delegation from the Empire State and friend of Mr. Seward; Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, whose tall form and sonorous eloquence excited so much attention; Mr. Andrews, of Massachusetts, the round-faced, handsome man, who made such a beautiful and telling speech on behalf of the old Bay State, in seconding the motion to make Lincoln's nomination unanimous; Mr. Simmons, the grey-headed United States Senator from Rhode Island; Mr. Ashmun, the President of the convention, so long the bosom friend and ardent admirer of Daniel Webster, and the leader of the Massachusetts whigs: the veteran Blair, and his gallant sons, Frank P. and Montgomery; brave old Blakie, of Kentucky; Gallagher, the literary man of Ohio; burly, loud-voiced Cartter, of Ohio, who announced the four votes that gave Lincoln the nomination, and others that I have not time to mention.

In a few minutes (it now being about 8 p. m.,) they were at Mr. Lincoln's house—an elegant two story dwelling, fronting west, of pleasing exterior, with a neat and roomy appearance, situated in a quiet part of the town, surrounded with shrubbery. As they were passing in at the gate and up the steps, two handsome lads of eight or ten years met them with a courteous "good evening, gentlemen."

"Are you Mr. Lincoln's son?" said Mr. Evarts, of New York. "Yes, sir," said the boy. "Then let's shake hands;" and they began greeting him so warmly as to excite the younger one's attention, who had stood silently by the opposite gate-post, and he sung out, "I'm a Lincoln too;" whereupon several delegates, amid much laughter, saluted the young Lincoln.

[The address of Mr. Ashmun, informing Mr. Lincoln of his nomination, and Mr. L.'s reply followed. We have already published Mr. L.'s speech.]

Mr. Ashmun then introduced the delegates personally to Mr. Lincoln, who shook them heartily by the hand. Gov. Morgan, Mr. Blair, Senator Simmons, Mr. Welles, and Mr. Fogg, of New Hampshire, were first introduced; then came hearty old Mr. Blakely, of Kentucky, Lincoln's native state, and of course they had to compare notes, inquire up old neighborhoods, and if time had allowed they would soon have started to tracing out the old pioneer families. Major Ben. Eggleston, of Cincinnati, was next, and his greeting and reception were equally hearty. Tall Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, was then presented by Mr. Ashmun to Mr. Lincoln. As they shook hands, each eyed the other's ample proportions with genuine admiration—Lincoln, for once during this evening, standing straight as an Indian, and showing his tall form in its full dignity.

"What's your height?" inquired Mr. Lincoln.

"Six feet three; what is yours, Mr. Lincoln?" said Judge Kelley, in his round, deliberate tone.

"Six feet four," replied Lincoln.

"Then," said Judge Kelley, "Pennsylvania bows to Illinois. My dear man, for years my heart has been aching for a President that I could look up to, and I've found him at last in the land where we thought there were none but little giants."

Mr. Evarts of New York, expressed very gracefully his gratification at meeting Mr. Lincoln, whom he had heard at the Cooper Institute, but where, on account of the pressure and crowd, he had to go away without an introduction.

Mr. Andrew of Massachusetts, said, "We claim you, Mr. Lincoln, as coming from Massachusetts, because all the old Lincoln names are from Plymouth colony."

"We'll consider it so this evening," said Lincoln.

Various others were presented, when Mr. Ashmun asked them to come up and introduce themselves. "Come up, gentlemen," said Mr. Judd, "it's nobody but old Abe Lincoln."

The greatest good feeling prevailed. As the delegates fell back, each congratulated the other that they had got just the sort of man. A neatly dressed New Englander remarked to us, "I was afraid I should meet a gigantic rail-splitter, with the manners of a flatboatman, and the ugliest face in creation; and he's a complete gentleman."

Mrs. Lincoln received the delegates in the south parlor, where they were severally conducted after their official duty was performed. It will no doubt be a gratification to those who have not seen his amiable and accomplished lady, to know that she adorns a drawing room, presides over a table, does the honors on an occasion like the present, or will do the honors at the White House with appropriate grace. She is a daughter of Dr. Todd, formerly of Kentucky, and long one of the prominent citizens of Springfield. She is one of three sisters noted for their beauty and accomplishments. One of them is now the wife of Ninian W. Edwards, Esq., son of old Gov. Edwards. Mrs. Lincoln is now apparently about thirty-five years of age; is a very handsome woman, with a vivacious and graceful manner; is an interesting and often sparkling talker. Standing by her almost gigantic husband, she appears petite, but is really about the average height of ladies. They have three sons, two of them already mentioned, and an older one—a young man of sixteen or eighteen years, now at Harvard College, Mass.

Mr. Lincoln bore himself during the evening with dignity and ease. His kind and sincere manner, frank and honest expression, unaffected, pleasant conversation, soon made every one feel at ease, and rendered the hour and a half which they spent with him one of great pleasure to the delegates. He was dressed with perfect neatness, almost elegance—though, as all Illinoians know, he usually is as plain in his attire as he is modest and unassuming in deportment. He stood erect, displaying to excellent advantage his tall and manly figure.

It is needless to say that the people of Springfield were delirious with joy and enthusiasm both that evening and since. As the delegates returned to the hotel—the sky blazing with rockets, cannon roaring at intervals, bonfires blazing at the street corners, long rows of buildings brilliantly illuminated, the State House overflowing with shouting people, speakers awakening new enthusiasm—one of the New England delegates remarked that there was more enthusiasm and sky rockets than he ever saw in a town of that size before.

The Ohio delegates brought back with them a rail, one of the original three thousand split by Lincoln in 1830, and though it bears the marks of years, is still tough enough for service. It is for Tom Corwin, who intends taking it with him as he stumps the Buckeye state for honest old Abe.

But the excursion train is about returning (12 p. m.) and I must close to get my letter off in time. J. W.

☞ There was a spirited passage at arms in the senate yesterday between Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Pugh, democratic senators.—Mr. Benjamin savagely denounced Douglas, and Mr. Pugh rejoined. He declared that if the delegates to the Richmond convention came to Baltimore he would sit and vote till the 4th of March to keep them out, for they had no business there. Is there not a pretty little row in prospect for the democracy at Baltimore? The Charleston convention was harmony compared with the prospective conflict at Baltimore.

REPUBLICAN MEETING ATTACKED AT WASHINGTON.—On the 19th inst. the republican friends of Mr. Hamlin proceeded in procession to his hotel. He was called out and addressed them, accepting the nomination for the vice presidency. While Mr. Washburn, of Ill., was speaking, stones and brick bats were thrown into the midst of the meeting from the direction of the patent office, causing much confusion and alarm. The miscreants who have fattened on federal spoils are "tormented before their time," in anticipation of their fate when the republican candidate takes possession of the government, and they take this method of venting their malignity.

HEAVIEST LOSS OF LUMBER ON RECORD.—In consequence of the recent heavy rain there has been a high freshet on the river Susquehanna. The boom at Williamsport was swept away on the 11th, and an immense quantity of lumber was carried off. Over 80,000,000 feet of lumber, worth over half a million dollars, has been carried off. This is the largest loss of lumber, at one time, ever occurring in the United States. There will be a rise of fifteen to twenty per cent. in the value of lumber in Philadelphia in consequence of this disaster.

The Ratification Meeting.

The ratification meeting yesterday was an earnest of the spirit in which the coming campaign is to be conducted. Every town in the county was represented, and the large hall was densely filled. An enthusiastic spirit was everywhere evident; the tried and staunch men of the party were present, and everything indicated a hearty concurrence in the action of the national convention. The efforts of the county committee to procure speakers for the convention was not rewarded with that success it was hoped and expected they would meet; but this deficiency was well supplied by Hon. L. P. Williston, of Pennsylvania, Hon. L. P. Harvey, and a corps of home speakers who are ever ready at any call upon them. Mr. Williston is from that part of Pennsylvania where the "opposition" to the present national administration and policy is not afraid to avow the name "republican," and where a distinctly and purely republican issue can be tendered and made successful. He, himself, would be regarded as a radical republican in Wisconsin, and in the half hour address he made he spoke directly to the hearts of the most thorough republican constituency in Wisconsin. We wish that all the Pennsylvanians we met at Chicago were like him.

Mr. Harvey spoke briefly, but we never heard him speak better, and all our home speakers acquited themselves with credit. One thing is certain, the contest in Rock has opened auspiciously. The right spirit is abroad and animating the vangnard of one of the truest and firmest republican states in the Union. We confidently believe and predict that the majority for Lincoln and Hamlin will exceed that given to Fremont and Dayton.

The Signs of the Times.

The political sea has its tides, its ebbs and flows. It rises to its height in a series of years, bringing with it gradually a storm of popular excitement, and then it sinks slowly to a depth of inaction until the popular mind, intent upon the accumulation of wealth, ceases almost to take cogizance of political affairs. All who have been familiar with American politics will recognize this truth. Our political explosions occur periodically, and generally follow periods of financial embarrassment. Had not the California gold mines been discovered, and the popular attention diverted to them, this outbreak would have occurred with sufficient violence to have overturned the democratic rule of extravagance, in 1856. The influx of gold from the Pacific coast put off the financial crash until it was too late to have any effect upon the presidential election of that year. And since that time the embarrassments of our people have sharpened their sensibilities to that degree that they are prepared to look keenly into the doings of their government officials. When we were prosperous we took no note of the amount of taxes levied or the manner of its expenditure. An hundred millions of dollars was thought to be nothing for the expenses of the nation. We did not care for it—we could very easily pay it—and we therefore took no care to watch those who disbursed it. It was just so in 1835 '36 and '37. We were then on the high wave of prosperity only to sink down into the gulf of bankruptcy, as we have done now. Then as now the descending era was marked by the exposure of government prodigality and corruption which astounded the nation.—Those who recollect those times will call to mind Swartwout, Hoyt, and their compeers in defalcations, who were found in every part of the country where there were government offices. Then came the investigating committees in Congress, the indignation of the people and the storm of 1840. Who does not see that this era has returned upon us—the circle is complete: great prosperity, extravagance, revulsion, bankruptcy, investigations, defalcations, and an indignant people.

Now, "the signs of the times" indicate the return of a political campaign in 1860, similar to that of 1840. The democrats have long been in power and their administration of the government has been so extremely bad that the people are rousing themselves to cast them off. Their opponents have made a nomination exactly suited to this state of things. They have taken a man from among the people, and have ignored politicians. They have selected a candidate whose first qualification is HONESTY, and not because of his executive experience. It is time that the departments at Washington were "cleaned out," and the task requires a COURAGEOUS man as well as an honest one, and both of these qualifications are as natural to Abraham Lincoln, as to draw the breath of life. The people instinctively know this, and they are preparing a political hurricane which will astonish the mere political calculator, and place the people's candidate in the presidential chair.

THE SCENE IN THE WIGWAM.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION.

When the candidates were put in nomination, the only names that produced "tremenduous applause" were those of Seward and Lincoln.

Everybody felt that the fight was between them, and yielded accordingly. Mr. Sewward was first nominated, and the applause was enthusiastic. The next nomination was that in behalf of Mr. Lincoln, and the response was prodigious, rising and raging far beyond the Seward shriek. Presently Caleb B. Smith seconded the nomination of Lincoln, and the response was absolutely terrific. It now became the Seward men to make another effort, and Blair, of Michigan, seconded his nomination, and

> At once there rose so wild a yell
> Within that dark and narrow dell,
> As all the fiends from heaven that fell
> Had pealed the banner cry of hell.

The effect was startling. Hundreds of persons stopped their ears in pain. The shouting was absolutely frantic, shrill and wild. No Camanches or panthers ever struck a higher note or gave to a scream more fearful intensity. Looking from the stage over the vast amphitheatre nothing was to be seen below but thousands of hats—a black, mighty swarm of hats—flying with the velocity of hornets over a mass of human heads, most of the mouths of which as appeared, were open. Above, all around the galleries, hats and handkerchiefs were flying in the tempest together. The wonder of the thing was that the Seward pressure outside should, so far from New York, be so powerful.

Now the Abe Lincoln men had to try it again, and Mr. Delano, of Ohio, on behalf of a portion of the delegation of that state, seconded the nomination of Lincoln, and the uproar that followed was beyond description. Imagine all the hogs ever slaughtered in Cincinnati giving their death squeals together, a score of big steam whistles going together, (steam at 160 pounds per inch) and you can conceive something of the same nature. I thought the Seward yell could not be surpassed; but the Lincoln boys were clearly ahead, and feeling their victory, as there was a lull in the storm, they took deep breaths all round and gave a concentrated shriek that was positively awful, and accompanied it with stamping that made every plank and pillar in the building quiver.

Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, leaped upon a table, and swinging hat and cane, performed like an acrobat. The presumption is he shrieked with the rest, as his mouth was wide open; but no one will ever be able to testify that he has positive knowledge of the fact that he made a particle of noise. His individual voice, however loud, was lost in the hurricane of Lincoln cheers.

The New York, Michigan and Wisconsin delegations sat together, and were, in this tempest, very quiet. Many of their faces whitened as the Lincoln yawp swelled into a wild hozanna of victory.

The convention now proceeded to business. The New England states were called first, and it was evident that Seward had not the strength that had been claimed for him there. Maine gave nearly half her vote for Lincoln. Vermont gave her vote to her senator, Collamer, which was understood to be merely complimentary. It appeared, however, that her delegation was hostile or indifferent to Seward, otherwise there would have been no complimentary vote for another. Massachusetts was divided. Rhode Island and Connecticut did not give Seward a vote. So much for the caucusing the night before. Mr. Evarts, of New York, rose and gave the vote of the state calmly, but with a swelling tone of pride in his voice—"New York casts her seventy votes for William H. Seward!" The seventy votes was a plumper, and there was slight applause, and that rustle and vibration in the audience indicating a sensation. The most significant vote was that of Virginia, which had been expected solid for Seward, and which now gave him but eight, and Lincoln fourteen. The New Yorkers looked significantly at each other as this was announced. Then Indiana gave her twenty-six votes for Lincoln. This solid vote was a startler, and the keen little eyes of Henry S. Lane glittered as it was given. He was responsible for it. It was his opinion that the man of all the land to carry the state of Indiana was Judge McLean.—He also thought Bates had eminent qualifications. But when he found that the contest was between Seward and Lincoln, he worked for Lincoln as if life itself depended upon success. The division of the first vote caused a fall in Seward stock. It was seen that Lincoln, Cameron and Bates had the strength to defeat Seward; it was also known that the greater part of the Chase vote would go for Lincoln.

The convention proceeded to a second ballot. Every man was fiercely impatient.—The partisans of the various candidates were strung up to such a pitch of excitement as to render them incapable of patience, and the cries of "call the roll" were fairly hissed through their teeth. The first gain for Lincoln was in New Hampshire. The Chase and the Fremont vote of that state were given for him. His next gain was the whole vote of Vermont. This was a blighting blow upon the Seward interest. The New Yorkers started as if an Orsini bomb had exploded. And presently the Cameron vote of Pennsylvania was thrown for Lincoln, increasing his strength forty-four votes. The fate of the day was now determined. New York saw "checkmate" in the next move, and sullenly proceeded with the game, assuming unconsciousness of her inevitable doom. On this ballot Lincoln gained seventy nine votes! Seward had 184½ votes; Lincoln 181.

It now dawned upon the multitude that the presumption entertained the night before, that the Seward men would have everything their own way, was a mistake.—Even persons unused to making the calculations and considering the combinations attendant upon such scenes, could not but observe that while the strength of Seward and Lincoln was almost even at the moment, the reserved votes by which the contest was to be decided were inclined to the latter. There, for instance, was the Bates vote, thirty-five; the McLean vote, thirty-eight; the Dayton vote, ten—all impending for Lincoln—and forty-two Chase votes, the greater part going the same way.

On the third ballot, now taken amid excitement that tested the nerves, the fatal defection from Seward in New England still further appeared—four votes going over from Seward to Lincoln in Massachusetts. The latter received four additional votes from Pennsylvania and fifteen additional votes from Ohio. It was whispered about—"Lincoln's coming man—be nominated this ballot." When the roll of states and territories had been called, I had ceased to give attention to any votes but those for Lincoln, and had his vote added up as it was given. The number of votes necessary to a choice were two hundred and thirty-three, and I saw under my pencil as the Lincoln column was completed, the figures 231½—one vote and a half being required to give him the nomination. A hundred pencils had told the same story. The news went over the house wonderfully, and there was a pause. In about ten ticks of a watch, Carter of Ohio was up. He said, "I rise, (eh) Mr. Chairman, (eh) to announce the change of four votes of Ohio from Mr. Chase to Mr. Lincoln." The deed was done. There was a moment's silence. The nerves of the thousands, which through the hours of suspense had been subjected to terrible tension, and as deep breaths of relief were taken, there was a noise in the wigwam like the rush of a great wind, in the van of a storm—and in another breath, the storm was there. There were thousands cheering with the energy of insanity.

A man who had been on the roof, and was engaged in communicating the results of the ballotings to the mighty mass of outsiders, now demanded by gestures at the skylight over the stage, to know what had happened. One of the secretaries, with the tally sheet in his hands, shouted, "Fire the salute! Abe Lincoln is nominated!" As the cheering inside the wigwam subsided, we could hear that outside, where the news of the nomination had just been announced. And the roar, like the breaking up of the fountains of the great deep that was heard, gave a new impulse to the enthusiasm inside. Then the thunder of the salute rose above the din, and the shouting was repeated with such tremendous fury that some discharges of the cannon were absolutely not heard by those on the stage. Puffs of smoke drifting by the open doors, and the smell of gun-powder, told what was going on.

The moment that half a dozen men who were on their chairs making motions at the President could be heard, they changed the votes of their states to Mr. Lincoln. This was a mere formality and was a cheap way for men to distinguish themselves. The proper and orderly proceeding would have been to announce the vote, and then for a motion to come from New York to make the nomination unanimous. New York was prepared to make this motion, but not out of order. Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Virginia, California, Texas, District of Columbia, Kansas, Nebraska, and Oregon, insisted upon casting unanimous votes for Old Abe Lincoln before the vote was declared.

While these votes were being given, the applause continued, and a photograph of Abe Lincoln which had hung in one of the side rooms was brought in, and held up before the surging and screaming masses.

The places of the various delegations were indicated by staffs to which were attached the names of the states, printed in large black letters on paste board. As the Lincoln enthusiasm increased, delegates tore these standards of the states from their places and swung them about their heads.

I left the city on the night train on the Fort Wayne and Chicago road. The train consisted of eleven cars, every seat being full and people standing in the aisles and corners. I never before saw a company of persons so exhausted as they were. The Lincoln men were not able to respond to the cheers which went up along the road for "Old Abe." At every station where there was a village, until two o'clock, there were tar barrels burning, drums beating, boys carrying rails; and guns, great and small, banging away. The weary passengers were allowed no rest, but plagued by the thundering jar of cannon, the clamor of drums, the glare of bonfires, and the wild whooping of the boys, who were delighted with the idea of a candidate for the Presidency who thirty years ago had split rails on the Sanagamon river—classic stream now and forevermore—and whose neighbors named him "Honest." The meeting being organized, JOHN R. BENNETT, esq., delegate to the National Convention, addressed the people present, and was followed by L. P. WILLISTON, of Pennsylvania, JOSEPH A. SLEEPER and WM. B. HAWES, of Janesville.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the PLATFORM adopted by the Chicago Convention, embodies sentiments for which the Republican party of the United States should constantly and persistently labor, until the prevalence of those sentiments shall spread their benign influence over the whole Union, and restore the government to that policy of freedom which our revolutionary fathers inaugurated and which miscalled "democratic" administrations have discarded and abandoned.

Resolved, That in ABRAM LINCOLN, the nominee of the republican party for President of the United States, the republicans of Rock county recognize a tried and true republicrn, a faithful representative of their party and principles, and a pioneer in the great northwest; and we pledge him such a vote in "Old Rock" as will sustain her reputation as the banner county of Wisconsin, and is due to a gallant leader of the republican hosts of the Union.

Resolved, That the nomination of HANNIBAL HAMLIN for Vice President is a just tribute to eminent public service and high personal character. His selection meets our cardial approbation and will elicit our warmest support.

On motion the meeting adjourned until 7½ o'clock in the evening.

EVENING SESSION.

After a procession by the Wide-Awake Club of the city of Janesville, the meeting was called to order by J. A. SLEEPER, esq., who, in the absence of Mr. Burdick, discharged the duties of chairman.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

NEW YORK, May 23.

Correspondence of the Tribune.—The Philadelphia Inquirer has a despatch from Washington to the effect that the statement that Mr. Seward is about leaving the senate is strictly without foundation, although, says the despatch, his friends are indignant at his defeat. They say that he will not only endorse the nominee, but he will make a speech approving of him and the platform on which he stands, as adopted at Chicago.

NEW YORK, May 23.

A large meeting was held at the Cooper Institute last night, with a view to influence the action of the New York delegation to the Baltimore convention in favor of Douglas. Speeches were made by Hon. F. B. Cutting, Hon. W. A. Richardson, of Ill., Gov. Foote, of Tenn., and several others.—There was a considerable gathering outside the building, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

If Mr. Hunter should return to-morrow as anticipated, the senate committee on finance will hold a meeting on Mr. Morrill's tariff bill as passed by the house. That committee is nearly divided, and Mr. Toombs holds the balance of power with a strong disposition to favor the bill. Before the senate the prospect is decidedly encouraging unless the bill be killed off by a premature adjournment or intentional discussion.

The whole republican force is certain, being 25 votes to start with; add Messrs. Kennedy and Crittenden from the South Americans, and Bigler, Thompson and Pearce, democrats and 30 out of the 33 which are necessary to a full senate, may be considered sure with a fair prospect of Bayard, Saulsbury, Toombs and Latham, without counting others who may be conveniently absent for the sake of supposed party policy.

Mr. Curtis will call up the Pacific railroad bill in the house on Saturday and endeavor to reach a vote by the following Tuesday. Opinion is much divided in the house between the policy of one or two roads as most likely to attain the object.

Messrs. Sherman, Trumbull, Dunn, Morrill, Train, Aldrich and others have agreed to speak at the meeting of the peoples' party in Philadelphia on Saturday night, to ratify the Chicago nominations and open the campaign in Pennsylvania.

Wm. C. Barney testified before the Covode committee as to certain mail contracts made by P. Gen. Holt. He testified that in 1859 he bid for the sea mail service between New York and San Francisco, his terms being $178,000; those of his only competitor, Daniel Johnson, being $162,000. The contract was awarded to Johnson, who, as the time approaced for carrying it into effect, noti ed the department of his inability. The service was then turned over to Vanderbilt for $178,000, in spite of Barney's claims that he was the next and only bidder.

NEW YORK, May 23.

A private letter from the south announces that Houston will run as an independent candidate.

Hon. Erastus Corning of Albany, and Hon. James S. Wadsworth of Genessee, have become securities of John A. Dix, the newly appointed postmaster for this city, in the sum of $150,000—double the amount of the late postmaster.

CINCINNATI, May 23.

The papers are filled with accounts of the storm. It is supposed to have extended from Louisville to Marietta, following the course of the river. The damage done is estimated at over $1,000,000.

All the towns and villages on the river above have suffered severely. Sixteen pair of coal boats are known to have sunk and over one hundred lives are lost. All the steamboats on the river have suffered more or less.

At Louisville and New Albany the storm was not as disastrous as in this vicinity, but a great many houses are unroofed, and trees and fences blown down.

WASHINGTON, May 23.

HOUSE.—Mr. Alley, the senate Pacific telegraph bill being under consideration, spoke of the vast importance of such a communication between the two oceans, which cannot be expected for years to come except by this measure. He denied that it creates a great monopoly. It confers no exclusive privilege but merely grants right of way.

A number of gentlemen earnestly sought the floor amid the usual confusion.

Mr. Colfax said they wanted action and not speeches.

Mr. Smith, of Virginia, thought it unfair that the debate should be confined to the friends of the bill.

Mr. Alley replied that the discussion had been confined mainly to the enemies of the measure during subsequent proceedings.

Mr. Curry rose to a point of order, relative to the prevalent disorder, he said it was impossible to understand what was going on.

The Speaker succeeded in obtaining comparative quiet.

Clark B. Cochrane moved to table the bill. Negatived by 80 against 91.

Without further action the house went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union, on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

The amendment pending was to strike out the appropriation for an auxiliary guard.

Mr. Florence caused to be read a resolution of the city council in reprobation of the disturbances of the republican serenade on Saturday.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, said the last resolution was untrue. There was not a policeman on the ground. He remarked that there was but one sentiment in the community and that in detestation of the riot.

Mr. Campbell said the disturbance commenced at the Washington House, the rioters followed the procession to 8th street with all the violence of an organized mob. There was not a policeman on the ground.

The amendment was agreed to.

SENATE.—A message was received from the President, in relation to the capture of more negroes of the Isle of Pines, by the United States steamer Wyandotte, referred to the judiciary.

Mr. Grimes introduced a resolution of inquiry, addressed to the secretary of war in regard to the sale of the Fort Snelling reserve. A discussion ensued as to the propriety of sending an enquiry to the secretary of war.

Mr. Davis contended that it could only be addressed to the President.

SANDY HOOK, May 23.

The steamer Persia from Liverpool 12th, via Queenstown 13th, has arrived.

Garabaldi's expedition was the only topic of any prominence. There was nothing authentic as to his landing.

There was a panic at Shanghae, and business was suspended, owing to the advance of the rebels.

Provisions dull. Breadstuffs steady, except corn, which was lower.

The Market.

NEW YORK, May 23.

Flour common to medium extra western 5,80. Canadian flour dull and declining. Rye flour in fair request 3,50a4,40. Wheat market a shade easier with moderate export demand, sales 40,000 bush. 1,18 fair Chicago spring; 1,21a1,23 Milwaukee club; 1,30 winter and red western. Rye, sales 1,200 bush, 87a89. Barley dull and nominal.—Corn heavy and lower for unsound, steady for sound.

Special Correspondence of the Chicago Journal.

MR. LINCOLN AND THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 19, 1860.

The excursion train bearing the committee appointed by the national convention at Chicago, to wait on Mr. Lincoln, and notify him of his nomination, consisting of the president of the convention, Hon. George Ashmun, of Mass., and the chairmen of the different state delegations, arrived here at half-past seven o'clock this evening.

A great crowd were awaiting them at the depot, and greeted their coming with enthusiastic shouts. From the depot they marched to the hotel, accompanied by the crowd, and two or three bands discoursing stirring music. The appearance and names of the more distinguished delegates were received with vociferous applause, especially the venerable and famous Francis P. Blair, of Maryland, Hon. E. D. Morgan, Governor of New York, and Gov. Boutwell, of Massachusetts.

When they arrived at the hotel, the crowd still increasing, deployed off to the state house square, to give vent to their enthusiasm in almost continual cheers, and listen to fervent speeches.

Having partaken of a bountiful supper, the delegates proceeded quietly by such streets as would escape the crowd, to the residence of Mr. Lincoln. Quite a number of outsiders were along, among whom were half a dozen editors, including Hon. Henry J. Raymond, of the New York Times.

Among the delegates composing the committee were many of the most distinguished men in that great convention, such as Mr. Evarts, of New York, the accomplished and eloquent spokesman of the delegation from the Empire State and friend of Mr. Seward; Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, whose tall form and sonorous eloquence excited so much attention; Mr. Andrews, of Massachusetts, the round-faced, handsome man, who made such a beautiful and telling speech on behalf of the old Bay State, in seconding the motion to make Lincoln's nomination unanimous; Mr. Simmons, the grey-headed United States Senator from Rhode Island; Mr. Ashmun, the President of the convention, so long the bosom friend and ardent admirer of Daniel Webster, and the leader of the Massachusetts whigs; the veteran Blair, and his gallant sons, Frank P. and Montgomery; brave old Blakie, of Kentucky; Gallagher, the literary man of Ohio; burly, loud-voiced Cartter, of Ohio, who announced the four votes that gave Lincoln the nomination, and others that I have not time to mention.

In a few minutes (it now being about 8 p. m.,) they were at Mr. Lincoln's house—an elegant two story dwelling, fronting west, of pleasing exterior, with a neat and roomy appearance, situated in a quiet part of the town, surrounded with shrubbery. As they were passing in at the gate and up the steps, two handsome lads of eight or ten years met them with a courteous "good evening, gentlemen."

"Are you Mr. Lincoln's son?" said Mr. Evarts, of New York. "Yes, sir," said the boy. "Then let's shake hands;" and they began greeting him so warmly as to excite the younger one's attention, who had stood silently by the opposite gate-post, and he sung out, "I'm a Lincoln too;" whereupon several delegates, amid much laughter, saluted the young Lincoln.

[The address of Mr. Ashmun, informing Mr. Lincoln of his nomination, and Mr. L.'s reply followed. We have already published Mr. L.'s speech.]

Mr. Ashmun then introduced the delegates personally to Mr. Lincoln, who shook them heartily by the hand. Gov. Morgan, Mr. Blair, Senator Simmons, Mr. Welles, and Mr. Fogg, of New Hampshire, were first introduced; then came hearty old Mr. Blakely, of Kentucky, Lincoln's native state, and of course they had to compare notes, inquire up old neighborhoods, and if time had allowed they would soon have started to tracing out the old pioneer families. Major Ben. Eggleston, of Cincinnati, was next, and his greeting and reception were equally hearty. Tall Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, was then presented by Mr. Ashmun to Mr. Lincoln. As they shook hands, each eyed the other's ample proportions with genuine admiration—Lincoln, for once during this evening, standing straight as an Indian, and showing his tall form in its full dignity.

"What's your height?" inquired Mr. Lincoln.

"Six feet three; what is yours, Mr. Lincoln?" said Judge Kelley, in his round, deliberate tone.

"Six feet four," replied Lincoln.

"Then," said Judge Kelley, "Pennsylvania bows to Illinois. My dear man, for years my heart has been aching for a President that I could look up to, and I've found him at last in the land where we thought there were none but little giants."

Mr. Evarts of New York, expressed very gracefully his gratification at meeting Mr. Lincoln, whom he had heard at the Cooper Institute, but where, on account of the pressure and crowd, he had to go away without an introduction.

Mr. Andrew of Massachusetts, said, "We claim you, Mr. Lincoln, as coming from Massachusetts, because all the old Lincoln names are from Plymouth colony."

"We'll consider it so this evening," said Lincoln.

Various others were presented, when Mr. Ashmun asked them to come up and introduce themselves. "Come up, gentlemen," said Mr. Judd, "it's nobody but old Abe Lincoln."

The greatest good feeling prevailed. As the delegates fell back, each congratulated the other that they had got just the sort of man. A neatly dressed New Englander remarked to us, "I was afraid I should meet a gigantic rail-splitter, with the manners of a flatboatman, and the ugliest face in creation; and he's a complete gentleman."

Mrs. Lincoln received the delegates in the south parlor, where they were severally conducted after their official duty was performed. It will no doubt be a gratification to those who have not seen his amiable and accomplished lady, to know that she adorns a drawing room, presides over a table, does the honors on an occasion like the present, or will do the honors at the White House with appropriate grace. She is a daughter of Dr. Todd, formerly of Kentucky, and long one of the prominent citizens of Springfield. She is one of three sisters noted for their beauty and accomplishments. One of them is now the wife of Ninian W. Edwards, Esq., son of old Gov. Edwards. Mrs. Lincoln is now apparently about thirty-five years of age; is a very handsome woman, with a vivacious and graceful manner; is an interesting and often sparkling talker. Standing by her almost gigantic husband, she appears petite, but is really about the average height of ladies. They have three sons, two of them already mentioned, and an older one—a young man of sixteen or eighteen years, now at Harvard College, Mass.

Mr. Lincoln bore himself during the evening with dignity and ease. His kind and sincere manner, frank and honest expression, unaffected, pleasant conversation, soon made every one feel at ease, and rendered the hour and a half which they spent with him one of great pleasure to the delegates. He was dressed with perfect neatness, almost elegance—though, as all Illinoians know, he usually is as plain in his attire as he is modest and unassuming in deportment. He stood erect, displaying to excellent advantage his tall and manly figure.

It is needless to say that the people of Springfield were delirious with joy and enthusiasm both that evening and since. As the delegates returned to the hotel—the sky blazing with rockets, cannon roaring at intervals, bonfires blazing at the street corners, long rows of buildings brilliantly illuminated, the State House overflowing with shouting people, speakers awakening new enthusiasm—one of the New England delegates remarked that there was more enthusiasm and sky rockets than he ever saw in a town of that size before.

The Ohio delegates brought back with them a rail, one of the original three thousand split by Lincoln in 1830, and though it bears the marks of years, is still tough enough for service. It is for Tom Corwin, who intends taking it with him as he stumps the Buckeye state for honest old Abe.

But the excursion train is about returning (12 p. m.) and I must close to get my letter off in time. J. W.

☞ There was a spirited passage at arms in the senate yesterday between Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Pugh, democratic senators.—Mr. Benjamin savagely denounced Douglas, and Mr. Pugh rejoined. He declared that if the delegates to the Richmond convention came to Baltimore he would sit and vote till the 4th of March to keep them out, for they had no business there. Is there not a pretty little row in prospect for the democracy at Baltimore? The Charleston convention was harmony compared with the prospective conflict at Baltimore.

REPUBLICAN MEETING ATTACKED AT WASHINGTON.—On the 19th inst. the republican friends of Mr. Hamlin proceeded in procession to his hotel. He was called out and addressed them, accepting the nomination for the vice presidency. While Mr. Washburn, of Ill., was speaking, stones and brick bats were thrown into the midst of the meeting from the direction of the patent office, causing much confusion and alarm. The miscreants who have fattened on federal spoils are "tormented before their time," in anticipation of their fate when the republican candidate takes possession of the government, and they take this method of venting their malignity.

HEAVIEST LOSS OF LUMBER ON RECORD.—In consequence of the recent heavy rain there has been a high freshet on the river Susquehanna. The boom at Williamsport was swept away on the 11th, and an immense quantity of lumber was carried off. Over 80,000,000 feet of lumber, worth over half a million dollars, has been carried off. This is the largest loss of lumber, at one time, ever occurring in the United States. There will be a rise of fifteen to twenty per cent. in the value of lumber in Philadelphia in consequence of this disaster.

Night Police and Street Lights.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Allow me to second the remarks of your correspondent "Y" in your paper of last evening, in reference to a night police, and also add a word about the street lights—another very important matter. Both of these subjects should interest our citizens, especially the business portion, who have large amounts and in many cases their all invested inside of the dollar boxes (misnamed stores,) which disgrace our city. Look at our principal business streets and see if there are not a large number of buildings, renting for large rents, which would disgrace any ordinary town, and how much more a city that has the reputation of Janesville. With such buildings and the large amount of rowdyism we are cursed with, is it not the duty of our city fathers to provide some means to protect the lives and property of our people? There is scarcely a night that depredations are not committed by the gangs of rowdies who seem to have nothing else to do, not for any benefit to themselves, but from pure cussedness. With a small but efficient night police, appointed by our present Mayor, who certainly understands his duties and business, the safety and saving of life and property would be largely increased, and the expense of the same more than doubly repaid.

Now for the lights. Where is our gas fund, and why are not our street lamps in use on dark nights such as we have been favored with of late? Our opinion is that our council act unwisely, to say the least, in putting up lamp posts in the by-streets, when they cannot afford to light those already up. The cry is light, more light and less expenditure. We are well taxed for light—now give it to us, and not fool the money away for worthless objects. Here endeth the first lesson.

Yours for N. P. and L.

Wide Awakes, Attention!

ALL RIGHT!—G. Fritz desires us to say that notwithstanding his wagon was upset to-day, his stock of lager is unaffected by the accident. His supply is full and of excellent quality.

PALMER' DRUG STORE.—In calling attention to the advertisement of Mr. Palmer announcing an enlargement of his business, we have an opportunity to give our own personal testimony to the success which has attended his efforts to establish a first class establishment. He has made a large addition to his stock and variety of goods, as well as to the amount of room devoted to his business, and the entire establishment is arranged in that well-ordered manner that good taste in the display is combined with good judgment and ample means in the purchase of a leading stock in the state.

SUICIDE.—L. D. Thompson, residing in the town of Centre, about eight miles from this city, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. Mr. T. had been for a long time subject to occasional aberations of mind amounting almost to insanity. Several years ago he made an unsuccessful attempt at self-destruction by cutting his throat, and has since been a constant cause of fear in his family, who have narrowly watched him to prevent such a calamity as has now occurred. We learn that Mr. T. was found dead in the woodshed attached to his dwelling this morning at four or five o'clock, and it is supposed the suicide was committed about three. He seems to have placed the muzzle of the rifle in the ear, and the ball passed through and came out on the temple on the opposite side of the head. Death probably occurred instantaneously. The family were not aroused by the report of the rifle, and their grief may be better imagined than described. In this affliction they will receive the sympathy of a community where they and the deceased were universally respected.

P. S.—We learn more fully the particulars of this sad occurrence. Mr. Thompson placed the rifle back of the ear, and one of his hands is burned by the explosion of the powder. His head was badly shattered by the ball. A domestic in the family was aroused by the sound of a heavy fall, but did not alarm the family. He was found about 5 o'clock by his wife, who missed him from his room and sought for him. It is supposed the deed was committed about 4 o'clock.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.—This afternoon a wagon attached to a spirited team belonging to James Shields, of the town of La Prairie, was loading with lumber at the depot, when the horses became frightened at a train passing, and started on a run. A son of Mr. S., in charge of the team, was dragged a short distance, but not materially injured. The horses crossed the lower bridge, passing safely a crowd of wagons around the American House, ran up Main street, without meeting any obstruction, but between the corner of Main and North Second street, run into and overturned the buggy of C. G. Gillet, clearing it from the horse, ran into the dray of John Welch and capsized the horse, overturning the beer wagon of G. Fritz, passed up North Second street and was stopped in front of the Stevens House. For such a thorough cleaning out of the street between Milwaukee and North Second streets, it is remarkable that so little damage was done as was inflicted. A few dollars will repair all damages, and none of the horses, either the runaways or the runovers, appear to be much injured.

THE WIDE-AWAKES.—A company of wide-awakes was organized in this city yesterday, and made their first appearance in the evening in the uniform and with the torches peculiar to them. About 35 were in procession. The uniform was furnished by Bornheim, in Young America block. This organization is destined to play an important part in the coming election. The members are truly "wide-awake," and will make their influence felt in the vote for President next fall. If our friends elsewhere in the county desire to organise such a club, they can procure the uniform from Bornheim.

SPRING VALLEY REPUBLICAN CLUB.—At a meeting of the republicans of the town of Spring Valley, held Saturday, May 19th, pursuant to a call of the town committee, for the purpose of organizing a town republican club, A. Sprague was chosen president, C. T. Dickey secretary, and J. Kirkpatrick treasurer of said club. The meeting adjourned to meet at the depot at Orford, Saturday, June 3d, at 1 o'clock P. M., where a general attendance of the republicans of the town is desirable.

THE FIRES KINDLED.—Returning delegates, on the route homeward to this city, were saluted at leading points by large crowds of people, full of wild enthusiasm for the Chicago nominations. Even the train which left on Friday evening continued to be greeted at the several stations until long after midnight. On Saturday these ardent demonstrations, began at Valparaiso, Ind., , were kept up at various points, and culminated at Fort Wayne in a large impromptu mass meeting. Gov. Denison, being on the train, was called out, and effectively addressed the large assemblage, eliciting repeated and hearty applause by his allusions to "Honest Old Abe," and the glorious triumph to be won under his leadership. Here, as all along the road, so far as Lima, where a large number of Ohians took another route, the band of music accompanying the Pennsylvania delegates enlivened these remarkable popular gatherings with strains suited the occasion. At one place in Indiana, a large flag, with the names of the candidates, and attached to a rail, was flying, and the loudest cheers went up for the nominees. From Lima to this city like demonstrations had already greeted the previous train. All the Miami Valley is on fire with enthusiasm for the republican ticket. Judging from the indications thus given, we anticipate a popular furore for Lincoln and Hamlin, during the canvass, unparalelled even during the memorable contest of 1840.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGUETT, President.

A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

☞ Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville.

COMMERCIAL.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette, BY BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, MAY 23, 1860.

Receipts of wheat were not as large to-day as yesterday, owing probably to the recent heavy decline in prices. There were about 2000 bushels on the market, which sold at 95@1,00 for milling spring, and 90@93 for shipping, a decline of fully three cents per bushel on yesterday's figures. Corn also declined 1@2c; sales of a few loads at 40c per 60 lbs. Oats were also dull and lower; we note sales of several loads at 26@28c. No change in other grains. The decline tendency in our market is owing to news of a dull and heavy feeling in the lakeshore and eastern markets.

We make up prices as follows:

WHEAT—white winter 1,05a1,10; good to choice milling spring at 95a1,00; common to fair shipping, 90a93.

CORN—shelled, per 60 lbs., 40a42c; ear per 70 lbs. 25a33c.

OATS—quiet at 26a28 per bushel.

BARLEY—in good request at 45a58c per 50 lbs., fair to choice.

RYE—quotable at 60a65 per 60 lbs. None coming forward.

POTATOES—plenty at 30a40 per bushel for good to choice ones.

TIMOTHY SEED—scarce and in demand at 2.25a2.60 per 45 lbs.

BUTTER—plenty at 11a13.

EGGS—in fair demand at 7a8 per dozen.

HIDES—green, 6a6½; dry flint, 12a14.

FLOUR—spring at retail, 2.60, winter, 3.50.

POULTRY—chickens, 6a7; turkeys, 7a8.

Chicago Market.

Tuesday Evening, May 22.

Corn tolerably active at 47½. Wheat extremely dull—a few sales only being made at a decline of 1@2c, 1,00a1,01 being the range for No 2. Flour declined, sales at 4,87a5,25. Oats declined to 30a33 on track. Barley quiet, sales at 67a70 for No 1 on track. Highwines 18½. Mess pork active at 17,00.

CATTLE MARKET, Monday, May 21.

The market for beef during the week has been very quiet, and receipts have been of a rather inferior quality. This fact has caused good cattle to sell fully up to last week's rates, but we have no advance to record.—Yesterday fair to good stock was sold at 3,75a4,00; but scallawags were sold as low as 2 50a2,62½. Fat hogs 4,50a5,00. Sheep are in good demand for the butchers, bringing 3,50a5,00; sheared sheep 3,00a3,50. Cows and calves 25,00a30,00, extra 35,00a45,00.

Milwaukee Market.

Tuesday Afternoon, May 22.

Wheat, No 1, 1,06 in store; No 2, 1,01. Flour 4,62a5,20. Oats 32. Barley 62.

Night Police and Street Lights.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Allow me to second the remarks of your correspondent "Y" in your paper of last evening, in reference to a night police, and also add a word about the street lights—another very important matter. Both of these subjects should interest our citizens, especially the business portion, who have large amounts and in some cases their all invested inside of the tinder boxes (misnamed stores,) which disgrace our city. Look at our principal business streets and see if there are not a large number of buildings, renting for large rents, which would disgrace any ordinary town, and how much more a city that has the reputation of Janesville. With such buildings and the large amount of rowdyism we are cursed with, is it not the duty of our city fathers to provide some means to protect the lives and property of our people? There is scarcely a night that depredations are not committed by the gangs of rowdies who seem to have nothing else to do, not for any benefit to themselves, but from pure cussedness. With a small but efficient night police, appointed by our present Mayor, who certainly understands his duties and business, the safety and saving of life and property would be largely increased, and the expense of the same more than doubly repaid.

Now for the lights. Where is our gas fund, and why are not our street lamps in use on dark nights such as we have been favored with of late? Our opinion is that our council act unwisely, to say the least, in putting up lamp posts in the by-streets, if they cannot afford to light those already up. The cry is light, more light and less useless expenditure. We are well taxed for light,—now give it to us, and not fool the money away for worthless objects. Here ends the first lesson.

Yours for N. P. and L.

Wide Awakes, Attention!

There will be a meeting of the "Wide Awakes," of this city on Thursday evening next, at the Court Room, for the purpose of electing officers. A general attendance is requested.

LOST.—About the 10th inst., a gold sleeve button with the letters C. P. A. engraved upon it. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office.

ALL RIGHT!—G. Fritz desires us to say that notwithstanding his wagon was upset to-day, his stock of lager is unaffected by the accident. His supply is full and of excellent quality.

PALMER'S DRUG STORE.—In calling attention to the advertisement of Mr. Palmer announcing an enlargement of his business, we have an opportunity to give our own personal testimony to the success which has attended his efforts to establish a first class establishment. He has made a large addition to his stock and variety of goods, as well as to the amount of room devoted to his business, and the entire establishment is arranged in that well-ordered manner that good taste in the display is combined with good judgment and ample means in the purchase of a leading stock in the state.

SUICIDE.—L. D. Thompson, residing in the town of Centre, about eight miles from this city, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. Mr. T. had been for a long time subject to occasional aberations of mind amounting almost to insanity. Several years ago he made an unsuccessful attempt at self-destruction by cutting his throat, and has since been a constant cause of fear in his family, who have narrowly watched him to prevent such a calamity as has now occurred. We learn that Mr. T. was found dead in the woodshed attached to his dwelling this morning at four or five o'clock, and it is supposed the suicide was committed about three. He seems to have placed the muzzle of the rifle in the ear, and the ball passed through and came out on the temple on the opposite side of the head. Death probably occurred instantaneously. The family were not aroused by the report of the rifle, and their grief may be better imagined than described. In this affliction they will receive the sympathy of a community where they and the deceased were universally respected.

P. S.—We learn more fully the particulars of this sad occurrence. Mr. Thompson placed the rifle back of the ear, and one of his hands is burned by the explosion of the powder. His head was badly shattered by the ball. A domestic in the family was aroused by the sound of a heavy fall, but did not alarm the family. He was found about 5 o'clock by his wife, who missed him from his room and sought for him. It is supposed the deed was committed about 4 o'clock.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.—This afternoon a wagon attached to a spirited team belonging to James Shields, of the town of La Prairie, was loading with lumber at the depot, when the horses became frightened at a train passing, and started on a run. A son of Mr. S., in charge of the team, was dragged a short distance, but not materially injured. The horses crossed the lower bridge, passing safely a crowd of wagons around the American House, ran up Main street, without meeting any obstruction, but between the corner of Main and North Second street, run into and overturned the buggy of C. G. Gillet, clearing it from the horse, ran into the dray of John Welch and capsized the horse, overturning the beer wagon of G. Fritz, passed up North Second street and was stopped in front of the Stevens House. For such a thorough cleaning out of the street between Milwaukee and North Second streets, it is remarkable that so little damage was done as was inflicted. A few dollars will repair all damages, and none of the horses, either the runaways or the runovers, appear to be much injured.

THE WIDE-AWAKES.—A company of wide-awakes was organized in this city yesterday, and made their first appearance in the evening in the uniform and with the torches peculiar to them. About 35 were in procession. The uniform was furnished by Bornheim, in Young America block. This organisation is destined to play an important part in the coming election. The members are truly "wide-awake," and will make their influence felt in the vote for President next fall. If our friends elsewhere in the county desire to organise such a club, they can procure the uniform from Bornheim.

SPRING VALLEY REPUBLICAN CLUB.—At a meeting of the republicans of the town of Spring Valley, held Saturday, May 19th, pursuant to a call of the town committee, for the purpose of organizing a town republican club, A. Sprague was chosen president, C. T. Dickey secretary, and J. Kirkpatrick treasurer of said club. The meeting adjourned to meet at the depot at Orford, Saturday, June 3d, at 1 o'clock P. M., where a general attendance of the republicans of the town is desirable.

THE FIRES KINDLED.—Returning delegates, on the route homeward to this city, were saluted at leading points by large crowds of people, full of wild enthusiasm for the Chicago nominations. Even the train which left on Friday evening continued to be greeted at the several stations until long after midnight. On Saturday these ardent demonstrations, began at Valparaiso, Ind., , were kept up at various points, and culminated at Fort Wayne in a large impromptu mass meeting. Gov. Denison, being on the train, was called out, and effectively addressed the large assemblage, eliciting repeated and hearty applause by his allusions to "Honest Old Abe," and the glorious triumph to be won under his leadership. Here, as all along the road, so far as Lima, where a large number of Ohians took another route, the band of music accompanying the Pennsylvania delegates enlivened these remarkable popular gatherings with strains suited the occasion. At one place in Indiana, a large flag, with the names of the candidates, and attached to a rail, was flying, and the loudest cheers went up for the nominees. From Lima to this city like demonstrations had already greeted the previous train. All the Miami Valley is on fire with enthusiasm for the republican ticket. Judging from the indications thus given, we anticipate a popular furore for Lincoln and Hamlin, during the canvass, unparalelled even during the memorable contest of 1840.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

☞ Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed. In Janesville.

COMMERCIAL.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette, BY BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, MAY 23, 1860.

Receipts of wheat were not as large to-day as yesterday, owing probably to the recent heavy decline in prices. There were about 2000 bushels on the market, which sold at 95@1,00 for milling spring, and 90@92 for shipping, a decline of fully three cents per bushel on yesterday's figures. Corn also declined 1@2c; sales of a few loads at 40c per 60 lbs. Oats were also dull and lower; we note sales of several loads at 20@22c. No change in other grains. The decline tendency in our market is owing to news of a dull and heavy feeling in the lakeshore and eastern markets.

We make up prices as follows:

WHEAT—white winter 1,05a1,10; good to choice milling spring at 95a1,00; common to fair shipping, 90a92.

CORN—shelled, per 60 lbs., 40a42c; ear per 70 lbs. 28a33c.

OATS—quiet at 20a22 per bushel.

BARLEY—in good request at 45a58c per 50 lbs., fair to choice.

RYE—quotable at 60a65 per 60 lbs. None coming forward.

POTATOES—plenty at 30a40 per bushel for good to choice ones.

TIMOTHY SEED—scarce and in demand at 2.25a2.50 per 46 lbs.

BUTTER—plenty at 11a13.

EGGS—in fair demand at 7a8 per dozen.

HIDES—green, 6a6½; dry flint, 12a14.

FLOUR—spring at retail, 2.60, winter, 3.50.

POULTRY—chickens, 5a7; turkeys, 7a8.

Chicago Market.

Tuesday Evening, May 22.

Corn tolerably active at 47½. Wheat extremely dull—a few sales only being made at a decline of 4a5c, 1,00a1,01 being the range for No 2. Flour declined, sales at 4,87a5,25. Oats declined to 30a33 on track. Barley quiet, sales at 67a70 for No 1 on track. Highwines 18¾. Mess pork active at 17,00.

CATTLE MARKET, Monday, May 21.

The market for beef during the week has been very quiet, and receipts have been of a rather inferior quality. This fact has caused good cattle to sell fully up to last week's rates, but we have no advance to record.—Yesterday fair to good stock was sold at 3,75a4,00; but scallawags were sold as low as 2,50a2,62½. Fat hogs 4,50a5,00. Sheep are in good demand for the butchers, bringing 4,50a5,00; sheared sheep 3,00a3,50. Cows and calves 25,00a30,00, extra 25,00a45,00.

Milwaukee Market.

Tuesday Afternoon, May 22.

Wheat, No 1, 1,06 in store; No 2, 1,04. Flour 4,62a5,20. Oats 32. Barley 62.
